

B1
contd
2. (2X AMENDED) The transdermal delivery system of Claim 1, wherein the ethoxylated lipid has at least 20 ethoxylations per molecule.

B2
19/12. (2X AMENDED) A transdermal delivery system comprising:
an ethoxylated oil selected from the group consisting of castor oil, jojoba oil, corn oil, and emu oil;
an alcohol mixed with the ethoxylated oil so as to form a penetration enhancer; Aloe Vera mixed with the penetration enhancer; and a therapeutically effective amount of capsaicin or NSAID or both mixed with the penetration enhancer and Aloe Vera.

B3
28/19. (2X AMENDED) A transdermal delivery system comprising:
an ethoxylated oil selected from the group consisting of castor oil, jojoba oil, corn oil, and emu oil;
an alcohol mixed with the ethoxylated oil so as to form a penetration enhancer;
an aqueous adjuvant mixed with the penetration enhancer, wherein the aqueous adjuvant comprises Aloe Vera; and a therapeutically effective amount of a delivery agent having a molecular weight of more than 2,000 daltons mixed with the penetration enhancer and aqueous adjuvant.

B4
4/30. (2X AMENDED) A method of making a transdermal delivery system comprising:
providing an ethoxylated oil selected from the group consisting of castor oil, jojoba oil, corn oil, and emu oil;
mixing the ethoxylated oil with an alcohol, nonionic solubilizer, or emulsifier so as to form a penetration enhancer; mixing the penetration enhancer with an aqueous adjuvant, wherein the aqueous adjuvant comprises Aloe Vera; and mixing the penetration enhancer and aqueous adjuvant with a delivery agent and thereby making the transdermal delivery system.

Please add the following claims as follows:

B5
15/38. (NEW) The transdermal delivery system of Claim 1, wherein the ethoxylated lipid is castor oil.
